Detailed Scale Models for Adult Collectors

'N' Gauge Catalogue

1st Edition

Masterpieces in Miniature

Welcome to the first 2004 Graham Farish by Bachmann N Scale Catalogue

The Graham Farish range began in 1970, and has grown to become the leading brand for UK N Gauge modellers. This year is another milestone with the return of 20+ popular models. In addition there are three brand new models, developed using the latest technology, marking 2004 as a significant and exciting development period for British N Gauge.

The re-introduction of the boxed sets has proved to be very popular and all nine types are illustrated in this issue. All the models in the sets carry different liveries and names to those available as individual items, a feature that has been well received by collectors and modellers alike (NB that sets for 2005 will be completely different with new combinations and liveries.)

The star of the steam section is the release of the V2 in no less than three liveries and heralds the beginning of a new and exciting range of super detailed models. There is a brand new chassis with a small can motor, flywheel plus tender pickup on all six wheels and the locomotive body has extra fine detail added with separate handrails and a detailed cab interior.

The SR 'ACE' enthusiasts will be very pleased to see the Rebuilt Merchant Navy and 'Spam Cans' return with five new liveries. The prototypes were the main motive power on the SR during the 50s' and 60s. A few are still working as mainline preserved steam locomotives and one model is presented as preserved 'Canadian Pacific' in BR express blue.

Other mainline pacific locomotives are represented with two new liveries for the LMS Duchess and two for the LNER A4 and for the goods enthusiast there is the welcome return of the Fowler 4F 0-6-0 in two BR Black liveries. The LMS/BR Black Five returns with the firebox, now correctly modelled as well as the 8F and Crab and all with new stunning liveries that the enthusiasts will be pleased to see.

The Diesel enthusiasts will not be disappointed with the return of three types of diesel Classes 25, 33 and 52, including two more weathered liveries (25 and 47). The 25, 33 and 52 now come with new improved twin fly-wheel mechanisms and five pole skew wound motor.

The post privatisation enthusiasts will welcome the new Class 170 Turbostar two car sets released in three liveries running on a brand new chassis that incorporates the best of Bachmann's technology.

There are new releases for coaches and wagons. The MK II coach returns in the much asked for Virgin livery with no less than four types. Modern image wagon enthusiasts will be pleased to see the 100 tonne tank and the 63' container wagons, with new liveries painted and finished to Bachmann's hallmark.

By the end of the year virtually all of the existing Graham Farish range will be back in production providing modellers with a breath taking range of British prototypes covering the big four to post-privatisation. For the encouraging and complimentary remarks received as well as the constructive feedback over the last year, all at Graham Farish, Bachmann would like to say thank-you.

This issue presents an excellent start for 2004 and more models and releases are planned. To keep up to date you can visit our web site www.grafar.co.uk where the latest news on developing products can be found.

To conclude, the Bachmann Collectors club is now well established with a growing N section. 2002 saw the introduction of exclusive models for members only and the range offered will now grow to cover the N enthusiasts.
