

New! Kobo Custom Exclusives!

Built to order - available only for a limited time
 Orders due 10/5/12 ~ Shipping 12/5/12

As part of its Kobo custom line, Kato USA is now offering special limited time production runs of exclusive paint schemes! Each of these selected schemes have been chosen for both their historical significance as well as their distinct visual appearance, and in some cases will even have modifications done to the original shells to better replicate the appearance of the prototypes they were based upon!

GE P42 Amtrak #100 "Celebrate the Century" -
 Painted and decaled for a special anniversary excursion train, Amtrak #100 operated in this special post office livery for a period of 18 months (from 1999 - 2000) to commemorate the US Post office Centennial.

GG1 #4902 "Museum of the American Railroad" -
 The then-owned-by-the-PC GG1 #4902 was decorated in a special commemorative gold and blue paint scheme to celebrate the Centennial of the "wedding of the rails", the driving of the Golden Spike which finalized the United States' original transcontinental railroad in 1869. This GG1 pulled the celebratory "Golden Spike Centennial Limited" train during the final leg of its journey in 1969 from Baltimore, MD to New York's Penn Station, arriving there May 18th 1969, the same day that Apollo 10 was making its voyage into Lunar orbit.
