Trains & Trailers

Increase switching operations on your railroad with a rail-truck transfer facility. This versatile trackside industry offers options for handling a wide range of products on your layout. Goods arrive and leave by train or truck so a general-purpose warehouse with both truck and rail loading facilities is ideal. Add a variety of freight cars, trucks and trailers and you're ready to begin operations.

WALTHERSPROTO

SAN FRANCISCO Chief

As Exciting as the City It's Named For!

The Affordable Way West!

In the summer of 1954, Santa Fe began offering direct Chicago-San Francisco service with its newest streamliner, the San Francisco Chief. Running on the southern main line between Emporia, Kansas, and Belen, New Mexico, the trip covered almost 2555 miles (4111.8k) — longest run on the ATSF and longest on a single railroad in the US — in just 47-1/2 hours.

With a mix of old and new streamlined equipment, the train proved popular from the start. Six train sets were needed to maintain the daily service that included a mix of baggage, mail and express cars, coaches, sleepers, the train's signature "Big Dome" lounges, and two different diners. A quick, convenient and affordable way to head west, the San Francisco Chief is still fondly remembered by many today.

A Note on Availability

At Walthers, we strive to provide you with the widest variety of product possible. In order to achieve this goal, we maintain significant inventory on site. Despite our best efforts to have every item you could possibly need in house at all times, it is not realistically possible to do so. For your convenience, we do our best to promote items that are in stock and to clearly label other items— those that are new and available for Advance Reservations or items that are low in stock and have Limited Quantities Available when the Flyer goes to press. At times, we experience a quick sell out on a particular item or unexpected demand for an item that we believed to have sufficient stock in house. In many cases, items can be back ordered for future delivery. In other cases, we are unable to secure more of a particular item. For the most up to date availability information, we encourage you to check walthers.com, email us at custserv@walthers.com or call our Customer Service Team at 1-800-4-TRAINS. The 'Find It' feature on our website will help you find a Dealer in your area that may still have stock available for the item you desire. Please know that we appreciate your support of both Walthers and your Local Hobby Shop. We are committed to making this Flyer a valuable part of your model railroading.

HO Maintenance-of-Way Heavyweight Passenger Cars

Regularly $69.98 Each

Now Just $19.98 Each – 71% Off!

Back before hotels and super-highways were common, railroads rebuilt all kinds of older cars to house, feed and supply work crews on jobs far from home. Moved to and from each job site in freight service, these “outfit” or “camp cars,” would be spotted on an existing or temporary siding near the work being done, often for months at a time. Wreck cranes and snow plowing operations also required a lot of labor, so these cars could also be found waiting the call to duty near the roundhouse or on yard tracks. Starting in the 1950s as newer lightweight passenger cars arrived to replace them, newly “retired” heavyweight sleepers, diners and baggage cars were reassigned to this duty. Repainted and re-lettered in the colors of the maintenance fleet to clearly designate their new assignment, they were used well into the 1990s. Following their second retirement, many were sold to private collectors and railroad museums for preservation and restoration.

- Typical of Work Train Cars Used 1950s-90s

- Quick Detail for Yards and Trackside Scenes
- Perfect Cars for Railroad Museum Displays

Model an Affordable Unit Train

As companies looked for ways to cut costs in the 1960s, unit trains became a popular shipping method in North America. Loaded with coal, scrap metal, grain or other goods, these trains move a single commodity directly from shipper to receiver, bypassing switching yards, saving time and labor costs. Usually, all cars are identical but some trains carry mixed equipment – the designation as a unit train comes from the train’s use and billing.

Modeling a unit train is easy and affordable with WaltherMainline cars. Each car is fully assembled with razor-sharp printing, fine details and ProtoMAX™ metal knuckle couplers. With as many as 150 cars in one unit train, you’ll need lots of cars for your consist. A variety of roadnumbers are available so you can quickly put together an authentic train.

MAKING RAILROAD HISTORY
WALTHERSPROTO

Easy On - Easy Off

Looking for an easier-to-load car that would still protect their products, lumber companies turned to the all-door boxcar developed in the mid 1960s. The four large doors on each side slid over each other allowing access to the entire length of the car. These cars quickly gained popularity and could be seen all across the U.S. from the late 1960s to the early 2000s. High maintenance costs for the sliding doors and a switch to packaged loads by lumber companies made flatcars a practicable option again. Today, only a few all-door boxcars are still in use.
