ON THE COVER

For 50 years, there's never been another diesel that stood out from the pack like EMD's GP30. Styled by GM's automotive division, these dependable locos have handled everything from fast mainline freights to quiet switching chores and some are still going strong today. WalthersProto pays tribute to these legendary locos with four new releases — including high-hood versions in HO Scale — on page 24.

WELCOME

From exciting new products to great savings, you'll find something you're sure to love in this issue of Walthers Flyer.

From classic postwar streamliner to modern Amtrak, bring more riders to your railroad during our Passenger Car Sale. Packed with great products, it's a great way to expand your collection or add more fun to operations. Be sure to check out the all-new WalthersMainline® cars made especially for smaller layouts too. The complete list begins on page 20.

Also new for WalthersMainline are HO GE Dash 8 diesels. Available in Standard (8-40B) and Wide Cab (8-40BW) versions, they're great for moving freight or passengers, and available with SoundTraxx® sound for DCC or DC operation. Turn to page 4 for the complete list of roadnames and features.

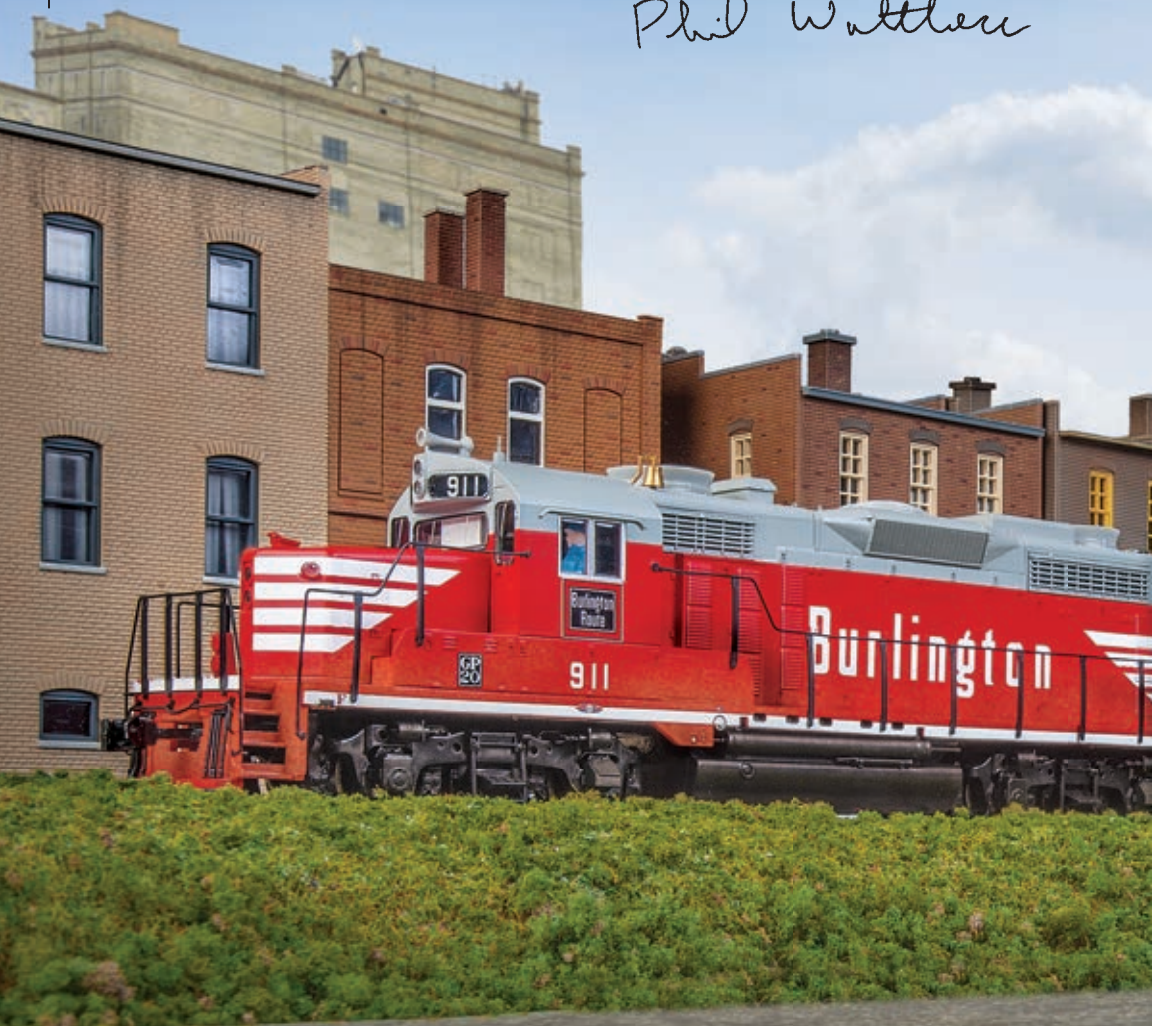

Add variety to your vintage freight car fleet with the latest WalthersProto® 32' ACF Type 21 10,00-Gallon Tank Cars. Check out the four new schemes and all the features found on these detailed HO replicas on page 5 in this issue.

Add a busy rail served industry to your N Scale railroad with the Cornerstone® Metro Power & Light. Perfect for layouts from the 1980s to the present check out the great features of this kit on page 5.

Get more details on these new models at walthers.com, by calling us at 1-800-487-2467, or visit your participating hobby shop to reserve any new product in this issue.

Happy Modeling!

MODEL A Sweet 1960S Train

Cookies, cakes, candies... pick your favorite sweet treat and chances are the ingredients arrived at the factory by rail. Getting ready to set out a trio of Airslide® covered hoppers, the engineer of a Burlington wayfreight waits for a back-up signal from the rear brakeman. Bringing the 1960s and other popular eras to life is easy with WalthersProto locos like this handsome GP20 and colorful WalthersMainline cars, which are now in stock.

A Note on Availability

At Walthers, we strive to provide you with the widest variety of product possible. In order to achieve this goal, we maintain significant inventory on site. Despite our best efforts to have every item you could possibly need in house at all times, it is not realistically possible to do so. For your convenience, we do our best to promote items that are in stock and to clearly label other items—those that are new and available for Advance Reservations or items that are low in stock and have Limited Quantities Available when the Flyer goes to press. At times, we experience a quick sell out on a particular item or unexpected demand for an item that we believed to have sufficient stock in house. In many cases, items can be back ordered for future delivery. In other cases, we are unable to secure more of a particular item. For the most up to date availability information, we encourage you to check walthers.com, email us at custserv@walthers.com or call our Customer Service Team at 1-800-4-TRAINS. The 'Find It' feature on our website will help you find a Dealer in your area that may still have stock available for the item you desire.

Please know that we appreciate your support of both Walthers and your Local Hobby Shop. We are committed to making this Flyer a valuable part of your model railroading.

All Aboard!

From the early days of steam through the golden age of long-distance name trains to today's short commuter runs, people continue to ride the rails. Railroads made long distance travel across the country possible for the first time and commuting to work faster and easier. Bring new or expanded passenger service to your layout. Check out the wide variety of equipment available here.

Pooled RDCs?

Did you know that there was a pooled RDC operation? The Boston & Maine and Canadian Pacific teamed up to offer the Boston-Montreal Alouette using RDCs from 1956-1965. Both contributed RDCs and trains operated with one car from each railroad. Equipment included RDC-2s rebuilt with a lunch counter for meal service.

We Won't Go!

There were a few railroad holdouts who didn't join Amtrak in 1971 for various reasons. Non-participants were required to maintain existing service for five years. Georgia Railroad maintained mixed trains as required by its state charter. Rock Island determined keeping its Peoria and Quad Cities Rockets was cheaper than joining Amtrak. Southern Railway gave some service to Amtrak, but continued its Southern Crescent until fully joining Amtrak in 1979. Rio Grande continued the Rio Grande Zephyr until 1983, making it the last U.S. non-Amtrak long distance carrier. Amtrak operates the train today. Non-joiners Reading/Conrail and Chicago, South Shore & South Bend were mostly suburban operations which were later absorbed by local commuter authorities.

Guaranteed Connections

Some railroads' passenger trains reached their endpoints over the rails of connecting railroads. GN's flagship Empire Builder and NP's North Coast Limited between Chicago and Portland/Seattle used affiliated railroads CB&Q and SP&S to reach Chicago and Portland, respectively. Union Pacific City streamliners reached Chicago over connecting roads CNW/MILW; Kansas City via Wabash and San Francisco/Oakland over SP. Seaboard Air Line's Miami-New York Silver Meteor reached the Big Apple over the Pennsy. IC's City of Miami reached Florida via the Central of Georgia and ACL. Many more of these cooperative runs operated across the continent.

What's on the Platforms?

Aside from passengers, platforms may be teeming with other details depending on the locale. Up through the 1960s, big terminal platform areas had everything from hot dog wagons and shoe shine chairs to newsstands. Other details include clocks, benches, advertising signs, information boards, track number signs, red cap stands, platform lights, baggage wagons, mail wagons, and tractors. Along the tracks, racks for MU cables, spare steam hoses, steam or electrical connections, cords, blue flag racks and more occupied space along the ballast. In contrast, smaller stations along the line might only have a single baggage wagon, a train order signal, a mail hook, a newspaper machine and a bench or two.

Why Bi-Levels?

Developed in the 1950s, Santa Fe Hi-Level and Chicago & North Western's bi-level commuter coaches, or gallery cars, set the pattern for many to follow. But why? On ATSF, Hi-Levels had 68 or 72 reclining seats on the upper level, instead of the usual 44 to 56 on a single-level car, relegating mechanical equipment and restrooms to the lower level. Commuter gallery cars could handle upwards of 130 people on two levels, including standees. Each train required fewer cars, hence fewer diesels, smaller crews and less maintenance, so the cost savings was significant.

Private Cars

Since the early days of railroads there have been privately owned passenger cars, and special cars for railroad company executives. Usually handled on the rear end of the train, owners pay for special handling. In its early years Amtrak required cars wear its color scheme, but rescinded the requirement by the late 1970s. Today, Amtrak still handles private cars and railroad-owned executive cars, many of which are dressed in a wide variety of historic railroad schemes or their owner's unique colors. VIA Rail Canada allows private cars only on some of its trains, and specifically excludes any train with a dome (Park) car on the rear.

WALTHERSPROTO FASTFACTS™

Introduced in 1961, the GP30 was possibly the most distinctive diesel ever built in large numbers. The appearance of the new locos could also be changed by customer specifications. Although replaced by the new 35 Line in 1963, GP30s led long, productive lives in mainline service, and a few remain in revenue service on shortlines today.

HO SCALE

NOW IN STOCK!
HO Scale | $69.98 Each

WALTHERSPROTO FASTFACTS™

Built: 1920s to 1951 many still in service with several restored examples in museums.

Taking on winter's worst or dozing through the summer alongside the roundhouse, the Russell plow has been a fixture of railroad maintenance for well over a century. Combining a flanger, bucking plow and spreader into one efficient design, the Russell Company built its first wooden plows in Ridgeway, Pennsylvania in 1899, shifting to all-steel construction in the 1920s. Incredibly tough and efficient, many have lived long lives and are still in seasonal service with major railroads, as well as several museums.
