ON THE COVER

You might say someone at Phelps Dodge had a vision... but it was actually the lack of vision that resulted in the first low, short hood GP9s; while the units were operated long-hood forward, their short hoods improved visibility so crews could keep an eye on the trains behind them! While the low, short hood up front became standard for later EMD SD and GP models, as older GP9s started through rebuilding programs, many returned to duty sporting new chopped hoods and center windshields. Now, WaltherMainline takes the hard work out of modeling these popular prototypes with the brand-new GP9 Phase 2 with Chopped Short Hood in HO Scale! Completely new from roof to rails, nicely detailed, and affordably priced, they're the perfect power for railroads big and small. Get complete details on page 4 in this issue!

SUMMER JOBS

Heat waves dance above the rails and the smell of creosote hangs heavy in the humid air, where the only breeze comes as trains roll by in the opposite direction. Signals ahead gleam "approach, restricting" and the dispatcher wants us off his railroad now! Chances are we won't get much of a break before the backlog clears and we're hard at it again, but we'll at least have time to reset the spreader blades to profile the next few miles of track. Built especially for the all-important jobs of shaping and grading drainage ditches, these big machines can do more in a day than an army of men once did in a week. Like their prototypes, the all-new Jordan Spreader from WalthersProto® is ready to go, and a must-have for every HO work train fleet - be sure to read more on page 20. Couple on one of the new new GP7s showcased on page 23 in this issue then add colorful WalthersMainline® freight cars like the new 50' Mechanical Reefers to make summer modeling fast and fun!

A Note on Availability

At Walthers, we strive to provide you with the widest variety of product possible. In order to achieve this goal, we maintain significant inventory on site. Despite our best efforts to have every item in house at all times, it is not realistically possible to do so. For your convenience, we do our best to promote items that are in stock and to clearly label other items—those that are new and available for Advance Reservations or items that are low in stock and have Limited Quantities Available when the Flyer goes to press. At times, we experience a quick sell out on a particular item or unexpected demand for an item that we believed to have sufficient stock in house. In many cases, items can be back ordered for future delivery. In other cases, we are unable to secure more of a particular item. For the most up to date availability information, we encourage you to check walthers.com, email us at custserv@walthers.com or call our Customer Service Team at 1-800-4-TRAINS.

Please know that we appreciate your support of both Walthers and your Local Hobby Shop. We are committed to making this Flyer a valuable part of your model railroading.
